THE AMERICAN POSITION

Speaking for the world as a whole, the less money spent on navies the better.

If the United States had four gunboats, Great Britain three and the Japs one, then each country would be just as well off, navally speaking, as if the gunboats were translated into dreadnaughts and the numbers multiplied by 20. Actually the people of each country would be better off to the tune of billions of dollars saved annually in taxes.

Wary from the great war and tax-ridden to the point of suffering, people all over the world are interested in disarmament, or at least restriction of armaments. Americans are as much interested as anybody else.

But the war has taught us that we are no safer, when a pirate nation breaks loose, than any other country. Actually we are not as safe as any of the other countries because we are richer than any of them, and hence better prey for such a pirate nation.

It was only the accident of locality that made France, not America, the objective of the German kaiser.

As long as there are navies in the world the United States navy should be the most powerful of all of them. But we should be just as well satisfied if they were on a four-gunboat basis as any other.

Right now the British navy is a better one than ours, and the Japanese better in some particulars.

And British and Japanese statesmen are talking to us about restriction of armaments.

America likes to hear the British and the Japanese talk that way.

But the American position is that it is up to the British and the Japanese government to begin actually restricting before we are called on to answer them.

NEXT STEP IN SERICULTURE

Seems quite likely that patents will be asked soon upon forcible feeding device designed to make silkworms eat Swiss cheese.

Such an apparatus appears the logical next step in sericulture, which is a tall-brow name for silk producing.

Dr. Vartian K. Osigian, lately of Harpoon, Armenia, now of New Orleans, is very busy making silkworms eat a lot of things they never ate before. The silkworm is a finicky feeder. Much more so than the horse or an opera star. It eats mulberry leaves for breakfast, luncheon and dinner and that's all it will eat.

That is—all it would eat until Dr. Osigian fooled it with succulent leaves from a tree he created by grafting the perfectly worthless orange orange with the mulberry.

But list to this—

Mulberry leaves make the silkworms make white silk. The new leaf makes them spin as many colors as silk of gold, red silk, and blue silk. Joseph's well-known coat. Black silk, are all the same, to the silkworm fed with varying amounts of the Osigian orange-mulberry leaf.

Hankins says:

Another blow at the high cost of living! The price of sodas have been reduced at our fountains.

HANKINS DRUG CO.
2-STORES-2

Well! Colored silks are much in demand. Silks colored by the worm are better than silks from the dye pots. Science made the silkworm dye at home with feeding.

Hence! Silks with many holes are much in demand. Examples—stockings, peekaboo waists and veils. Surely holes in silk made by the worm and not machine made would be better.

Therefore! Certainly it is reasonable to predict that somebody will solve the problem by finding a new food. Swiss cheese is the most "holeful" food known and so—

THE TWO NORTH POLES

The North Pole and the north magnetic pole are about one thousand miles apart. Consequently, the magnetic needle does not point due north at many points on the earth's surface.

At London, for instance, it points out at an angle of 16 degrees west of the true north.

The north magnetic pole was discovered by Sir J. C. Ross in latitude 70 degrees 5 minutes north and longitude 96 degrees 46 minutes west just within the Arctic Circle.

The real north pole as we know, the upper end of the earth's axis, was discovered by Peary.

Although the earth is a magnet, it is not a very strong one. If it were composed of iron alone, it would have a magnetic force 17,000 times as great as it actually has.

It is powerful enough, however, to give a strong directive action to the magnetic needle.

Now since it is the magnetic pole that attracts the needle of the compass, and due north is the upper end of the earth's axis one thousand miles away, it is easy to account for the deviations of the compass.

It would be very disastrous for a ship to attempt to steer directly by the magnetic compass without making corrections for these variations.

If a ship were steaming at 16 knots per hour and an error of three degrees were made in reading the compass, the ship would move one mile off her course every hour.

The interesting part of Cox's call on Wilson wasn't what was said, but what wasn't.

YOUR SWEET TOOTH

IT CONSUMED 86 1-2 POUNDS OF SUGAR IN 1920.

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.) NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—It took 86 1-2 pounds of sugar to fill the sweet-tooth of the average American in 1920.

That was the per capita consumption, according to the Willett & Gray Statistical Sugar Trade Journal.

High priced imported cane sugar supplied the great bulk of the 4,984,672 long tons consumed.

The bill for the 3,531,506 long tons imported from Cuba, Haiti, Porto Rico and the Philippines, as well as other foreign countries amounted to nearly $900,000,000.

The total sugar consumed in the United States in 1920 showed an increase over 1919 of only 17,001 long tons.

Of 1921 and its sugar prospects "Facts About Sugar," a trade publication, says:

"Indications are that the year now beginning will be marked neither by a serious shortage nor by a disconcerting oversupply. In fact, 1921 should be more nearly a normal sugar year than any since the beginning of the World War."

This trade journal estimates another record-breaking year of sugar consumption in the United States in 1921 will steady sugar prices.

Perhaps the village of Wilbur may have had a greater day but the wise ones say that the motor boat races in the lagoon of the town on Thursday afternoon marked at least, one of the great events in the history of its activities. Shortly after noon the good people of the village with numerous visitors from the neighboring cities began to gather at the dock where the contestants were busily engaged in putting the finishing touches on their boats and engines getting them in the best of trim for the pending race.

All was bustle and hustle, the air was cleaved by the snapping and the cracking of the busy little motors. An air of holiday revelry was on all sides, as the snappy little American flags were broken forth from the stem of each contesting boat.

The judges of the event had been selected from among the ladies of the town and were Mrs. Clement, Mrs. Thiers and Mrs. Thompson, and the Misses Bissell, Sprunt and Wilbur. They were given honored positions in snug seats on the good boat Able, where all proceedings could be carefully watched and which was skillfully piloted through the intricate courses of the lagoon by Captain Bradford Sprunt. At 1:30 o'clock the crack of the starting gun was heard and the first race was on, excitement was over the waters as the little boats bounded down the bay, around the anchored stake boat in the river and back to the Wilbur beach, in the preliminary races the leaders were Messrs. Rawdon, Bissell, Sorenson and McKenzie and the final race was won by Walter Rawdon.

Captain Peter Crowell, of the well known shipping company of Thurlow & Crowell, whose boats are known in the ports of all the world, was president of the day and made the speech of presentation to the winner of a handsome silver cup, which has been carefully selected by the committee.

After the races the ladies of the W. L. S. H. held a reception in the Toronto clubhouse serving punch and light refreshments to the racers and their friends, all agreeing that another race must soon be considered as some of the boys see where much more speed could be obtained from their crafts by a closer adjustment of their ballast.

FRENCH COINS ARE BEING CIRCULATED

(International News Service.)

AMERIGUS, Ga., Feb. 3.—French silver coins of one or two francs denominations are in circulation in this section, being passed as quarters and half dollars. The two franc resembles an American half dollar having on its obverse side almost an exact replica of the Liberty statue. On the reverse side is the lettering "Republique Francaise." The coin is almost the size and weight of the United States Liberty half dollar.

The one-franc piece resembles a quarter, but is a little lighter than the American coin.

MY DEAR Charles,
IN THE first place,
I HICCUPPED.
FOR 64 hours,
WHICH IS 20 hours,
LONGER THAN you,
AND DURING that time,
THERE WERE times,
WHEN I was hiccoughing,
TEN TO the minute,
AND I understand,
THAT A hiccup contest,
IS MUCH the name,
AS A six-day race,
AND ALL contestants,
ARE GIVEN points,
FOR BURSTS of speed,
AND YOU say nothing,
ABOUT THE speed,
OF YOUR hiccoughing,
AND MORE than that,
YOU CHOOSE a remedy,
THAT A hiccupper,
WOULDN'T BEGIN to use,
AND ANYWAY.

I KNEW about it,
AND THE day I stopped,
I SAID to my doctor,
"HOW WOULD it do,
TO RIDE a Ford,
"AND SHAKE 'em out."
AND THE doctor said,
"I'D ONLY try that,
"AS A last resort."
AND THERE you are,
AND I'M champion,
AND SOME TIME in March,
I'LL SHAKE your hand,
AT DEL Monte Junction,
I THANK YOU.

COAL DEALER SAYS BUSINESS AT STANDSTILL

One of the most practical and matter of fact business men is E. M. Man-court of Detroit, Mich., who is a guest of the Seaside Inn. He is accompanied by Mrs. Mancourt, her sister, Miss E. L. Kenney, also of Detroit, and her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. F. A.
Miller, of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Miller is of the firm of H. C. Goodman & Co., extensive manufacturers of shoes.
Mr. Mancourt is of the kind who takes an optimistic view of life, believing that things are as they are because they are to be and that they will adjust themselves to the needs of the world in good time. His party left home some weeks ago and made stops at several days at Asheville, N. C., and St. Augustine. This is his first visit to Daytona Beach, but they are delighted with the beach and other attractive features of the place. He is vice president of the Consolidated Coal company and to a News representative said:

"I am here because there is nothing worth while I can do at home. What coal is being sold now is going at a price that is less than the cost of production. But there is mighty little being sold at any price. Most of our big manufacturers in the West are closed down and have no use for coal, and the railroads are carrying so little freight that their coal demands are cut down to the minimum. So there was no little to do I took the opportunity to come South for the winter.
There is no use of bothering a man when he has no use for the thing one has to sell. When a business man is home down with unpleasant conditions it is better not to bother him. We have been in the habit of mining from 15 to 16 million tons of coal per year, but many mines are now entirely closed down, while many others are working only half time. Just now there is simply no market for coal worth speaking of. During the war the government assumed the control and management of the railroads and other public service companies and tried to force water to run up hill.
Now they are coming back to the owners and under private control I will not take a great while for business to get back into the old and reasonable channels and running smoothly."

"It is anybody's guess," said Mr.
Mancourt, "when things will get back to normal, and one is as good as another, but I don't think it will be a great while. However, before the readjustment can come there must be a decided change in the cost of labor.
When one complains to a tailor because he is asking an exorbitant price for a suit of clothes, he very quickly replies that his workmen are charging him four times as much for making a coat as they did before the war. To my mind the workers have been on an awful debauch. They have been receiving wages that no business could afford to pay in normal times, and they are trying to keep them up, which is ridiculous and cannot be done. They have been on a big spree and they must come to understand that this is the morning after. They have on hand a few dirty silk shirts and an awful headache. It is no use to talk to them. They will not listen to reason and they must be given time to wake up to the fact that the debauch is over and that they must get back to reason and fair play.
Just as the capitalist has done. All kinds of big business is readjusting their affairs by taking inventories, charging off their tremendous losses and opening a new and clean set of books. The labor end of the industries must do likewise and the sooner they find out that it must be done the sooner the country will be going on in the good old way."

"It is foolish to think there is anything wrong with the country or that all that is necessary to bring about a complete and satisfactory readjustment will not be done. We have in the United States just as much or more gold than ever, just as much property of every kind, just as many brains and we are just as rich as ever

WOMAN WILL SELL BEACH REAL ESTATE

Daytona Beach is to be one of the first cities in the United States to have a real live wife, woman real estate operator.
Mrs. Harriet Putnam, recently from Washington, D. C., but formerly from Cincinnati, has already applied for a permit to build an attractive and cozy real estate office at the corner of First avenue and Peninsula drive, where she will have as a near neighbor Councillman E. J. Tracy, who is engaged in the same business. Her application will doubtless be finally passed upon at the next meeting of the council on Monday evening, February 14.

Mrs. Putnam is a bright appearing young woman and brim full of business. Her husband was killed in France during the war, which makes it necessary for her to look after her own business interests. She is a lifelong friend of the family of L. D.
Dewey of Cincinnati and Seabreeze and came here as a guest at their new magnificent home on the ocean front and about a block north of the Clarendon hotel.

No doubt the entrance of Mrs. Putnam into the profession here will be warmly welcomed by all of the real estate dealers here, as they are a courteous and generous company of gentlemen.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND ON PENINSULA

The Peninsula Circle of Child Conservation League is making arrangements to buy equipment for a children's playground at the Beach. It is possible they will be placed on the Daytona Beach-Seabreeze grounds.
Mrs. Lillian Duto is chairman of the civic committee and her associates are Attorney Harry A. Horn and Prof.
R. J. Longstreet. As Prof. Longstreet had at his own expense gotten the swings made, the committee thought it only just to give him a boost. At the Honeycreek Villa there will be a road sale each Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the benefit of the cause.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Edmunds and Mr. and Mrs. George Smyth of Arlington, N. V., and Donald Canfield and Miss Helen Canfield of Caldwell, N. J., have arrived and are nicely located at 229 Halifax avenue.

MEXICO IS BOOMING
RECONSTRUCTION PROGRESSES
RAPIDLY IN COUNTRY
(Newspaper Enterprise Association)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 4.—"Traveling in Mexico isn't what it used to be," is the thankful expression of Americans.
All the way from Nuevo Laredo on the Texas border to this city one's eye is filled with the evidence of the tremendous progress being made in reconstruction made in two years.
Most of this work has been done since Obregon overthrew Carranza last May.
Whom two years ago soldiers were carried by the railroad to repel possible bandit attacks on the trains, today only two live in each day coach.
American Pullman's now run thru from San Antonio to Mexico City, according all modern comforts. Passports are quickly issued at the border and baggage is inspected with little inconvenience.
Every city from the border to the capital, including Monterrey, Saltillo and San Luis Potosi, is doing good business.
Mexico City is the mecca of American traveling salesmen.
Resident Americans who denounced Wilson for not intervening in Mexico would resent it today if Harding were to intervene.

sultants, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reynolds and daughter, Edna, and son, Earl, have returned from an auto trip throughout the state. They visited Tampa, St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Hartow, Orlando and many other resort cities. They have an interesting story to tell of their two weeks' experiences.

J. M. CARMAC TO BEGIN BUILDING

J. W. Carmac, the extensive dealer in real estate of Philadelphia and who a few months ago purchased $114,000 worth of Daytona Beach ground, accompanied by Mrs. Carmac and a party of friends and business associates, is here to look after his large interests.
Upon their arrival Wednesday night they went to the Ridgewood hotel in Daytona to stay until they could find more permanent quarters on this side of the river. Besides Mr. and Mrs.
Carmac, the party consists of Mr. and Mrs. William Adler, Mrs. J. Kelly and W. J. Erwin. Mr. Adler is also one of the live real estate men of Philadelphia and came down with Mr. Carmac to see if there is any good things left for him here. Mr. Erwin is a contractor and builder and will no doubt be interested in what construction work Mr. Carmac does here. Mr. Carmac also met here by appointment Alexander Ferguson, one of the most extensive contractors and builders of Philadelphia. Mr. Ferguson is on his way to Cuba, but will stop here on his return for a further conference with Mr.
Carmac. It is the intention of the party to remain here for some time.
With reference to his business here
Mr. Carmac said to a News representative:

"It is certainly my intention to do considerable construction work on my holdings here. I have delayed returning here until I could give the necessary time to looking after my interests in Daytona Beach, and I anticipate staying here for some time that I may give whatever I conclude to do my personal attention. First of all, I propose to improve my Main street lots, and this I shall begin at once or as soon as the necessary preliminary arrangements can be made. Of course, there may be some conditions arise that may interfere with my plans, but I anticipate no such thing. I expect, in fact, to get down to business at the earliest possible minute. I got into Daytona late last night and went to the Ridgewood, but I shall stop over here just as soon as I can make the necessary arrangements. I cannot say just what building I will start first. There is plenty to do and it will take a few days to perfect my plans."

With reference to affairs in his own city Mr. Carmac said:

"Some newspapers make a business of slandering Philadelphia and print all sorts of stories about the political corruption there, and any one reading them get the idea that it is a very wicked and nasty place. I have lived there for many years and I know these stories are not true. There is not a cleaner or better governed city in the country. I have not been everywhere, but I have visited many of the leading cities, and because of these tales about my own city I have taken pains to compare other places with it. For instance, I not long ago visited San Francisco and talk about rank political and crookedness in public affairs.
Philadelphia is a model beside it, and many other western cities."

When asked about the health of United States Senator Penrose he said: "I cannot say whether he will get well or not, but I hope he may. I do not admire him and do not agree with him politically, but I wish him no harm."

Mr. Carmac was an active member of one of the leading Methodist churches in Philadelphia, and in Dr. Masters he thinks he has one of the greatest pastors in the world. He says the entire reputation is in love with him, although he has been a free preacher for many years, an unusual stay for a Methodist minister.

Since coming Mr. Carmac has been in conference with F. M. Williams of the Florida Realty company and Horn & Wilcox, who sold him his holdings here on a former visit.

Daytona Beach people are delighted to hear of his arrival and will extend a hearty welcome to himself and family and also to any improvements he may see fit to make.

160,000 TEACHERS QUIT LAST YEAR

(International News Service.)
WELLESLEY, Mass., Feb. 3.—Of

Country Store Is "All Set" for Opening of Elks' Fair

"Ahead of all competitors, as usual," remarked Hiram Morris Doolittle, proprietor of the general store at the Elks' Fair. Hiram smiled with an expansive smile as he viewed his emporium of trade all "set up" and ready for trade. While the town folks slept or went to the movies Thursday night, Hiram took time by the forelock and peeled off his coat and dusted up the store.

"The pretty good at Hagerin," added Hiram, "and I guess we will get our share of the business. The high cost of living will be handed a real jolt during the Elks' doings."

Hiram was so fussed up over the appearance of his store that he went right out and had a picture taken of the establishment and hinted that he might adopt city ways and employ an advertising manager.

Hiram Doolittle and his eight active sons will have charge of Country Store. Like "trading at the corner" in the good old days, the Country Store will be able to furnish most any article from a tooth brush to a sack of flour that the prospective purchaser may need. With over 20,000 articles secured for this emporium, it promises to be the center of fair activities. It will be the largest booth in the bazaar.

It is an original creation which will eclipse everything of the kind ever put on in the city before. It is a show all by itself. The business is conducted in an unusual and novel manner, every article in the place, no matter how cheap or how valuable, is marked 15c, nothing more, nothing less. The customer steps up and hands over 15 cents and gets, not the article he selects, but an envelope, in which he finds a number. He presents the number and will get the article numbered to correspond.

Col. Martin is the originator of this idea, and he says it is a winner—it will be exorcisingly funny. The man who wants a loaf of bread may get a bottle of perfume, and the woman who wants a cake of soap may get a ham or a sack of flour. Many of the articles are worth $3.

The following is a list of the country store committee, which speaks for itself. They promise to deliver the goods. Every customer pays 15 cents and is sure to get some useful article. Hiram Doolittle and his eight sons, namely, Rube, Willie, Josh, Hezekiah, Sam, Si, Zeke and Percival. Hiram thinks that the majority of the people will take advantage of the high cost of living and will buy their things at the store.

Dreury, of Seabreeze and Miss Putnam, "Uncle George" Van Pelt, the local committee comprised of Rolland Stevens and Geo. E. Brannack and others are in attendance at the Deland meeting.

Mrs. F. Chapman and Mrs. W.H. Page To Speak at Club

One of the best programs of the season was given at the Palmetto club Thursday afternoon, Feb. 3. The program opened with the singing of "America," directed by Mrs. Hitchcock.

Mrs. Frank Chapman, of Washington, D. C. gave a splendid talk on the women of South America and spoke in glowing terms of that country and of the two trips she took in company with Dr. Chapman in 1916 and 1918. The first trip was a scientific expedition for the National Museum of Natural History. The second trip was in the interest of Red Cross work in the different cities and towns of South America.

Mrs. Chapman stated that the trade relations of North and South America were strained due to the fact that the South Americans are a polite, courteous people and our agents, sent to that country were often brusque and insolent. The poorest grade of merchandise often sold at the highest prices.

Mrs. Chapman went on to say that the people from the United States were not always courteous to the English residents in South America. Mrs. Chapman told a wonderful story of her travels in that country and advised everyone to at least go to Panama.

Mrs. Walter Hines Page, widow of the former ambassador to the Court of St. James, told of the work of the American Woman's club in London during the World War. Many people stranded in Europe at the outbreak of the war fled to England for safety. Ninety thousand people went to London for help of some kind.

Mrs. Stanley announced the program and introduced the speakers.

The first musical number was a Spanish gavotte, "Danza a Amore," beautifully rendered by Mrs. Snyder.

Miss Dorothy Bell gave three numbers on the harp that were enthusiastically received by the audience.

Tea was served immediately following the program. Mrs. Minigan and Mrs. Lowe poured, assisted by Miss Manuel, Marie Arroyo and Althea Johnson, all in Spanish costume, and acted as hostesses and ushers.

The clubrooms were decorated with bamboo and potted plants. One very large, beautiful rose on the president's table was especially attractive.

Mrs. Hitchcock announced the Oscar Seitz recital at the Palmetto club on the evening of Feb. 16, under the management of Mrs. Margaret Ashmead Mitchell. Announcement was also made of the children's Valentine party to be given Feb. 14 at 3 o'clock. Miss Maudie is the entertainer of the children.

"Idols of Clay" Big Attraction at the New Daytona

In "Idols of Clay," the picture at the New Daytona theatre today and tomorrow, George Fitzmaurice has taken a story by Ouida Bergere that fairly runs the gamut of human virtues and weaknesses and unfolded its action against a series of settings that for sheer artistry have seldom been equalled on the screen. Mr. Fitzmaurice has demonstrated anew that he is the master of the colorful, emotional story and the opulent background. As in his previous productions, he is assisted by the sympathetic work of pretty Mae Murray and David Powell, the featured players.

"Idols of Clay" brings together on a South Sea isle a young London sculptor who, faith in his career and in mankind shattered by an unscrupulous woman, has drifted to the tropics, and an innocent child of nature, the daughter of a pearl-smuggler. The girl falls in love with the handsome stranger. Later events lead to their separation, but finally, after the girl of the South Seas has experienced the dizzy heights of London bohemian society and the shadowy dens of the Limehouse underworld, they are reunited.

The picture records one step more in the development of Miss Murray from ingenue dancing roles to those of a finished emotional actress. The ex-Follies favorite has made rapid strides under Mr. Fitzmaurice's direction. However, the public is not allowed to forget that Miss Murray started her theatrical career as a sensational dancer. Her "Dance of the Chiffon Veils" in "Idols of Clay" is not likely to be soon forgotten. David Powell is his usual suave, talented self.

"Tea for Three" Plays Three Times At the Seabreeze

"Tea for Three" an angle on the triangle, as it is advertised, will be the attraction at the Seabreeze Opera House tonight and continuing through Saturday evening. The comedy is by Rol Cooper Mebrue, author of "It Pays to Advertise," "Under Cover" and several other plays equally popular. It is presented under the management of Selwyn & Co.

This is the first play to be offered by Mr. Mebrue in over a year and there will be not a little curiosity to see what it is that has kept him engaged for the length of time. Reports from New York where "Tea for Three" met with instantaneous success, on its opening night there early in the season, say that it is far the best that talented playwright has ever done.

A baby daughter was welcomed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stewart on Fairview avenue Thursday, the first born to the couple. Mrs. Stewart will be remembered as Miss Helen Keating before her marriage, having resided the greater part of her life at Daytona Beach. Mr. Stewart is connected with the R. S. Maley hardware store at Daytona Beach.

Syrian Princess Will Speak Here Again on Sunday

Princess Rahme Haider, member of the ancient Syrian royalty and daughter of the oldest country in the world will present another of her famous lecture-recitals on her native home on Sunday night at 7:30 at the Calvary Baptist church, Seabreeze, choosing as her topic "Glimpses of Palestine," painting a modern as well as ancient picture of Palestine.

Princess Rahme was born and reared beneath the beautiful skies of Syria and is most familiar with the inner life of her people and presents her lecture with all the warmth and fervor born of sincerity.

On Tuesday night, Feb. 8 at 8 o'clock at the same church the Princess Haider will make her last appearance before leaving for Miami, presenting her drama of "Naaman, the Leper." She is especially able to discuss this story for the fact that her home in Damascus is near the old home of the great Syrian captain.

Princess Rahme will again wear her native robes and Miss Burgess, her traveling companion, will furnish the Oriental music as a setting for both lectures.

"Oh, Oh, Cindy!" Special Matinee

This matinee is being given, it was announced today, so that the school children in the community will have an opportunity of seeing this beautiful and artistic show. A special price is being offered to children of 55 cents in the afternoon, adults at $1.10. According to information received from the chairman of the ticket committee Miss Olive Hinsky, the advance tickets are selling rapidly, both the $1 and $1.50 seats. Several theatre parties have been planned and blocks of seats obtained for that purpose. Children's admission tickets for the matinee are now on sale, but there will be no reserved seats sold for this performance, so tickets can be obtained at the door.

The reserved seat sale opens at the Auditorium, Daytona Beach, next Tuesday at 9 a. m. Reservations can be made after that time by telephone.

90 Mennonites Spend the Day Here on a Tour

A special car, containing 90 Pennsylvania people, largely of the Mennonite faith, arrived in Daytona last evening, the party spending the night at the Hotel Dalton, leaving this afternoon on a continuation of a tour of the state, to Miami, to the west coast and other points of interest.

The party, which is in charge of O. H. Shalk, comes largely from Lancaster, Pa., where they conduct farms, and practice the rigid laws of their religion, the Mennonites being noted for their absence of worldly amusements, and fancy dresses, those of the faith dressing in the same garb, of somber colors.

The Mennonites are among the most successful farmers of the country, populating large sections of the Canadian West, and various districts of the United States.

The party is merely on a pleasure tour of the state, taking in the principal cities and objects of beauty, remaining in Florida several weeks.

"Uncle" George Van Pelt of Charlevoix, Mich., who for many years has been an old winter guest in Seabreeze, where he always makes his home at the Hotel Clarendon, was one of those to enjoy the dinner given by the Daytona Chamber of Commerce at the Ridgewood hotel on Wednesday evening. He had a fine time and to the News said:

"I believe in anything that will bring the three cities together and do away with antipathies and strife. I like the community spirit that will bring old time enemies and rivals together and make friends of them."

"I am always interested in anything that will tend for the public good, and have always been a great worker for good roads, both here and in Michigan."

"I was pleased to see that this dinner at the Ridgewood had a tendency to bring the people of the Triple Cities together and will be glad when they can unite their interests and make of the three one big, splendid municipality."

Among the new arrivals at the Clarendon are:

Mrs. McWhor of Springfield, Mass.

ADVISES YOUNG MEN ON JOYS OF MARRIAGE

(International News Service.)

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—Dr. Charles W. Elliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, in an address on "And Enjoyable and Useful Life," delivered before 500 students at the school of Engineering at Northwestern College advised the young men to look forward to a married life as the most natural and most enjoyable form of life.

Married life, he said, "is the source of the highest and most constant joys in this world. Govern your lives as if you were going to be married next month to a pure woman that is a great safeguard in the life of a young man."

HOTEL DESPLAND

An unusual number of local people enjoyed the hospitality of the Despland hotel on Thursday for the mid-day luncheon. This hotel is always one of the most popular in the Triple Cities because of its extreme cleanliness, the homelike atmosphere, and the excellence of its cuisine. The lobby is one of the finest and largest to be found in any of the hotels of the three cities, and whenever there is the slightest chill in the air, a blazing fire in the mammoth grate gives warmth and good cheer to the place, which is much enjoyed by all the guests.

The dining room is one of the most attractive in its decorations of green and white, and many people prefer the genuine southern atmosphere which is given by the colored waiters, who render service, second to none in any resort city. The food is served in abundance and is wholesome and prepared by a chef who has had much experience and knows how to cater to the appetites of particular people. Local people always find the Despland an ideal place whenever they desire a change from the home surroundings. The orchestra is one of the charming features of the hotel.

This evening the guests of the Despland are enjoying a card party, and while there are only the regular guests enjoying the event, the big lobby is filled with tables and a very happy time is being enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Cole and Miss May Cole of Newmann, Ga., who are visiting the Triple Cities for a few days, were luncheon guests at the Despland on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell of Scranton, who are old time friends of the Despland, have arrived for the season and are comfortably located at that hotel. They are very glad to again get back to the sunshine of the Florida winter.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Worth of Brookline, Mass., who have for several years been spending their winters at the Despland, arrived there on Wednesday and will remain for the balance of the winter.

Mrs. O. R. Fennell and Mrs. E. R. Tyler motored to Daytona Wednesday from Cocoa and were guests during their stay in the city at the Despland.

C. D. Poland of Annapolis and W. S. Harding of Boston are guests this week at the Despland.

Mrs. Morgan Lewis, Mrs. William H. Lee and Mrs. E. M. Marshall of Shalokh, Pa., are spending their first winter in Daytona and are guests at the Despland. They are friends of Mrs. E. W. Leader, who has been at the Despland since early in the season, and these friends are very much enjoying the comforts of the Despland and the beauties of the city.

Mrs. H. King and Miss Eleanor King of White Plains, N. Y., are at the Despland, where they will remain for the rest of the winter. This is their first season in Daytona and they are very much pleased with their surroundings.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Miller and daughter, Miss Frances, of Davenport, Iowa, are spending the season at the Despland. This is their first season in the Triple Cities, and they are very much pleased with the place and the climate.

H. G. Burrows of Philadelphia, who for many years has each winter been a guest at the Despland, arrived in Daytona this week and is again at his favorite hotel, where he is meeting many old time friends and enjoying many pleasant reunions.

F. W. Emphail and daughter, Miss Alice, of Watertown, N. Y., are at the Despland, where they will remain for the rest of the winter.

the $100,000 Diamond Held Likely Punish the Slayer

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
Feb. 3.—The law
and the murderer of Lawrence. But who punished by Fate,
in the firm of

example, to the death of the four owners of the diamond. It is about to be exposed time because the diamond has not been seen since March 21, 1915.

A man was mangled by a diamond which was identified as the diamond.

Persons said they had seen it after the hour of the murder.

the widow, could
be jewels or money.
Money appears.

Money appeared in circulation.

Money dug in the Lawrence's light.

Money was exhumed. It was found, but was not managed to solve the
diamond.

Money pointed its accusing finger at the man who knew Lawrence.

Money evidence on which to charge. But the body was found. It had been managed to make it appear as if the victim was dead.

Money and Lawrence's stepmother, a movie actress, were in efforts to solve the diamond.

Money extracted the flu and
the diamond.

Money evidence. The diamond became prosecuting attorney the first of the year. Mrs.

Lawrence has gone to him with new evidence.

Lewis has engaged Dr. C. H. Bunting, famed pathologist, to make a complete autopsy of the body.

This probably will be the final attempt of the state to solve the mystery of Lawrence's death. The mysteries of his life, however, will never be solved.

Lawrence was an employee of the street cleaning department of Denver. He had little of this world's goods.

Then he began to become wealthy.
His investments were rich in return.
Bought Orange Diamond.

He bought the Orange diamond for $50,000.

It weighed 115 karats and had originally been cut for Queen Victoria as a present from the ladies of her court.
She refused to accept it, saying that she wanted the money invested in a hospital.

The stone went to Canada and was delivered in bond to Lawrence. It increased in value to $100,000. Shortly after he received it he left Denver.

He moved to the lonely shores of Lake Monona.

At night he would pull out a black wallet and pour out its contents of sapphires, turquoise, emeralds and diamonds. He played with them as toys, dividing them into various groups and estimating their value.

His widow says that a week before his death he had a teaspoonful of each variety of gems and about $50,000 in securities.

She asked about the Orange diamond.

"You wouldn't think an old fellow like me would have such a thing," he said, laughingly.

Did he carry it at the time of his death? Or was it hidden away in a place known only to him?

CABINET'S NEW JOBS

ington.

Galatin, Mo.

Alexander may run for the senatorial nomination in opposition to Jim Reed next year.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels will edit his News and Observer at Baltimore, N. C. He says he will have fun doing it.

will manage his farm magazine at Des Moines.

ably will take some educational post.
Secretary of Labor Wilson will occupy himself with labor matters.

And Postmaster General Burleson will take it easy on his ranch in Texas.

CHORUS OF FIFTY
TO SING "FILM"

(International News Service.)
LONDON, Feb. 3.—An experiment unique in the history of the film world will be made in Manchester at the end of March, when a new film, "Christopher Columbus," will be screened with vocal and instrumental accompaniment.

The voices will number fifty, including six principals and will be heard during the hour and a half run of the film.

The promoters of the experiment claim that such an attempt has never been made before, even in the United States.

SKIPPER OF NEW SOVIET ARK

SKIFFINGTON'S SPECIALTY IS ENDING HUNGER STRIKES

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
BOSTON, Feb. 2.—Meet Skipper Skiffington. His friends are calling him Noah, but his name is Henry, middle initial—J.

Noah, because he's to be in command of Soviet Ark II when it sails from New York early in February.

Secretary of Labor Wilson made him skipper of the Bolshevik ark because he knows the Reds and how to handle them.

As commissioner of immigration at Boston he has been in charge of 19 Reds at Deer Island. They come from Seattle, Wash.

They have small pots of gold tucked away in their clothes. They will be classed among the plutocrats when they get back to Russia with it.

But they would rather be ranting in America than rich in Russia.

They tried to buy their way out of the jail at Deer Island.

Skiffington stopped that.

Brooks Hunger Strike.
Then they declared a hunger strike.
"All right, strike," said Skiffington.
"If you don't eat the food offered you now, you'll not get another chance to eat."

That ended the strike.

Demetri Iwanik, intellectual communist, is the least desirous of the lot to return to Russia.

"If we don't get you now, we'll get you in Russia," his comrades have told him.

BRIDE IN BREECHES

MILKMAID WORE BOOTS AT HER WEDDING CEREMONY

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
POTTERS BAR, Ind., Feb. 4.—
"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"I'm going a-milking, sir," she said.
It wasn't quite that way with Arabella Sabitha Seppings, milkmaid. She was wearing a motorcycle with a side car.

A few days later she drove her milk cart to the church at 7:30 a. m.
James drove up in his auto.

The bride was dressed in smock coat, breeches and rubber boots.

Fifteen minutes after the wedding the bride had resumed her milk route.

"I just wanted to give our local people something they could really talk about," the bride answered to queries regarding her unconventional wedding.

LAWYERS DRESS LIKE FASHION PLATES NOW WITH WOMEN ON JURY

(International News Service.)

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3.—Mellifluous sentences, resounding words and quotations from the poets have returned to the vocabulary of lawyers with the advent of woman jurors, declared Judge Dan B. Cull, of the Cleveland Common Pleas court.

"I've noticed a marked change in the kind of address made by lawyers practicing in my court since we have had mixed juries," he said. "Witness caviling will soon become a lost art if the new attitude of courtesy assumed by attorneys does not wear off."

"Skilled practitioners believe that woman's sympathy will go out to the person who seems to be getting the worst of it, and attorneys now attempt to lead the doubtful witness with soft words to himself admit that his testimony is open to question."

"More than that, attorneys now draw their quotations from the Bible and the classics, with a liberal sprinkling from the poets, rather than from the vernacular of the street and the ball park."

Story of Naomi and Ruth
"The other day a lawyer defending a young man charged with automobile stealing told the story of Naomi and Ruth and how Ruth fell from grace.
He compared his client to Ruth and the jury, which had seven women members, returned a verdict of acquittal."

"Women jurors are more attentive than men," the judge continued.
"They are always on time, contrary to the popular tradition otherwise.
They never keep the court waiting as male jurors frequently do."

The ideal jury, the judge believes consists of six men and six women members. "It makes the atmosphere of the court more wholesome, the attorneys on both sides are more courteous and the case moves faster," he said.

Other Cleveland judges agreed with Judge Cull.

"Women seem to grasp some facts better than men," said Judge A. J.
Pearson. "Perhaps it is the intuition, in cases where money matters are involved women are more considerate than a male jury and smaller verdicts are returned. No doubt this is explained by the fact that women are not accustomed to handling money in the same columns as men and place a higher value on it."

Attorneys Spruce Up Attorneys have abandoned their boastful and self-confident attitude before juries composed partly of women," said Judge Samuel E. Kramer.

"Our lawyers dress better since women have become part of the legal machinery," was the contribution of Judge Maurice Bernon to the symposium. "There is a marked tendency to spruce up and appear to court with clothes and hair neatly brushed shown by members of the bar practicing in my court."

The lone jurist who has observed no change is Judge Homer C. Powell.
"Attorneys in my court carry on their cases in the same way before a jury which has women as before a jury composed entirely of men," he said.
"I can see no difference."

DAYTONA, FLORIDA, the winter home of Eastern millionaires and the Mecca of tourists, with its stately royal palms, its moss-hung, century old oaks, its old fashioned shell road drives, is the place where Pappy, the "genius of the kettles," works his magic!

Pappy blends the sweet juices of cultivated, yellow, golden oranges with the aromatic and pungent fluid extracted from the wild, sour oranges of Florida. Over the kettles, in a factory of spotless cleanliness, is performed the "wedding ceremony" of the sugar and the orange.

Pappy's Orange Marmalade is the "romance of the orange" done into a "bittersweet" surpassing in goodness anything of its kind—exquisitely piquant and delicately flavored. This peculiarly charming quality has made Orange Marmalade a national breakfast necessity in England.

The Bowers Stores, ever alert to solve the daily menu problems for their many friends and customers, have brought,
for the first time, to Memphis Pappy's Orange Marmalade. It comes in convenient form and at prices within the reach of all.

With it they have brought from these "model kitchens" on the East Coast the famous Pappy's Guava Jelly. This is usually sent to the discriminating markets of New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Pappy's Guava Jelly is as "clear as crystal" and a newspaper may be read through the glass—a marvel in the art of jelly-making.

These two quality products are now on sale, and you are requested to try them on an "unrestricted guarantee" basis.
